September 6, 2012, Auburn Hills, Mich. - Do you love your vehicle enough to purchase it again? If you're a Chrysler Town & Country owner, the answer is a resounding, yes! The Chrysler brand's new advertising campaign, "Test of Ownership," kicks off today and features real life minivan consumers touting just what they love most about their Town & Country. While there is an abundance of factual information on minivans, what real owners think about driving the Town & Country day in and day out is equally important. The Chrysler brand calls this the "Test of Ownership." According to the Polk Automotive Loyalty Awards, Chrysler Town & Country minivan consumers are the most loyal, continuing to purchase a Chrysler minivan when ready for their next vehicle.

The campaign will launch with two new broadcast spots, "Test of Ownership" and "What You Don't Do (Stow 'n Go)," both scheduled to air on national and cable TV stations. In addition to broadcast, a new web site, www.TestofOwnership.com, will serve as an online resource for families, showcasing product films that highlight some of the standard luxury and convenience features available on the Chrysler Town & Country, owner testimonial films and minivan facts and figures. Families ready to purchase their first, next, or last minivan, can also now consider the "Test of Ownership."

"The 'Test of Ownership' campaign was inspired by our win of the Polk Automotive Loyalty Awards 11 years in a row, listening to our customers, and the reasons why they purchase the Chrysler Town & Country minivan," said Saad Chehab, President and CEO – Chrysler Brand, Chrysler Group LLC. "The 2013 Chrysler Town & Country minivan offers parents and busy families the ultimate in versatility, standard luxury and convenience features, unsurpassed quality and comfort at a value."

The commercials, product films and testimonials can be viewed at <http://www.TestofOwnership.com>, the Chrysler brand Facebook page at <http://www.Facebook.com/Chrysler>, and on the Chrysler brand YouTube channel at <http://www.youtube.com/chrysler>.

Chrysler brand's advertising campaign was created in partnership with Wieden+Kennedy of Portland, Ore.

"Test of Ownership"

While consumers can learn a lot from an engineered road test, the Chrysler brand gives viewers a behind-the-scenes look at what an average family experiences when using their Town & Country minivan in the new commercial, "Test of Ownership."

"What You Don't Do (Stow 'n Go)"

Almost all auto companies brag about having the most cubic feet. But, what does that mean? Perhaps, the better question is – how easy is it to create space? With standard Stow 'n Go® seating, the answer is – very easy!

New Online Site www.TestofOwnership.com
