September 24, 2019, Auburn Hills, Mich. - FCA is extending the application window for the more than 11,000 pre-qualified Detroiters who want to work at the Company's new assembly plant being built on the city's eastside. The deadline for applications is now Sept. 29. The extension applies to Detroiters who have already completed the Detroit at Work Job Readiness activities held at over 300 events around the city since June.

"We decided to extend the application window to make sure that all Detroit residents who are already on the list have an additional opportunity to complete the application process," said Mike Lackaye, Head of Hourly Staffing, FCA. "Our intent has always been to make sure that Detroit residents are considered first, and we feel that this extension is important in achieving that objective."

The application window initially opened on Aug. 26 to Detroit residents in the impact area, the three zip codes surrounding the new plant. All other Detroiters began applying on Sept. 9.

The Company is also currently hiring for salaried and skilled trades positions. Available positions can be found at careers.fcagroup.com.
