Cyber Monday was huge this year and Goldberg has an insane amount of presents to deliver on time.

Q. His sleigh currently runs at 203 mph, but he needs it to reach 400 mph. If Goldberg is delivering presents at an altitude of 5,813.6 ft, with the same drag and weight of a 2019 Dodge Challenger SRT Hellcat Redeye, how much HP would he need to reach 400 mph?

The answer to the fourth challenge question below, posed on November 26, is available now online at www.Dodge.com.

Q. In 1921, the Dodge Brothers built a boat named the SS Delphine, with a whopping 3,000 HP. How much horsepower would a Dodge Challenger SRT Hellcat Redeye need to tow the SS Delphine to meet the industry standard SAE specs for the Davis Dam Grade Climb?
