- MotorWeek's staff drives the latest cars and trucks before arriving at a winner
- Winners are based on current purchasing trends, innovations, value and reliability

February 6, 2020, Auburn Hills, Mich. - MotorWeek has named the Ram 1500,Ram 2500 and Ram 3500 as the recipients of its 2020 Driver's Choice Award for Best Pickup Truck. Every year for the last 39 years, MotorWeek has paused half way through its television season to evaluate the best cars and trucks of the year from a buyer's point of view.

"Competent, hardworking pickup trucks that also have all the comfort and amenities you desire are speaking our language, and it all comes down to one name … Ram," said John Davis, creator and host of MotorWeek. "We picked the Ram 1500 as our Drivers' Choice Pickup Truck last year, for all those reasons, on top of that the newly added EcoDiesel,and finish it off with the new smooth-riding Ram Heavy Duty with up to 1,000 pounds of torque - so it's Ram two years in a row. No pickup truck lineup understands us and our wants better than Ram."

MotorWeek considers current purchasing trends, innovations, value and reliability when deciding on winners. The purpose of these awards is to create a practical buyer's guide for potential car and truck shoppers.

"At Ram, we're focused solely on building the best trucks and commercial vehicles in the market. This award from MotorWeek acknowledges that effort," said Reid Bigland, Head of Ram Brand. "An unrelenting effort to deliver more comfort, refinement and value to our customers continues to pay off as the awards and sales figures continue to grow. It is immensely satisfying to have MotorWeek recognize the Ram 1500, 2500 and 3500 with the Drivers' Choice Award."

For 2020, an all-new V-6 EcoDiesel joins the Ram 1500 lineup and brings with it best-in-class diesel torque with 480 lb.-ft. and diesel towing capability of 12,560 pounds.
