October 26, 2021, Windsor, Ontario - Just in time for Halloween, Dodge is showcasing two shockingly stylish trims for the 2022 Dodge Charger and Challenger — new HEMI® Orange and SRT Black appearance packages.

“The HEMI Orange and SRT Black packages offer two distinctive appearance options for the 2022 Dodge Charger and Challenger,” said Tim Kuniskis, Dodge Brand Chief Executive Officer – Stellantis. “Performance-vehicle owners are unique, and these two packages offer our customers the chance to stand out even more on the street.”

The HEMI Orange appearance package, available on GT RWD and Scat Pack Widebody models for Charger and Challenger, pays homage to the iconic HEMI engine that has powered Dodge muscle cars for decades. Like the distinct orange look of early-era HEMI engines, the HEMI Orange package colours outside the lines to create a unique, orange-and-black combination of accents that transform both exterior and interior.

Outside, a new orange accent tracer complements vehicle-length Gunmetal striping, while orange outlines the Midnight Grey Metallic grille, fender and decklid badging. On Scat Pack Widebody, orange Brembo six-piston calipers contrast with Carbon Black “Warp Speed” 20-inch by 11-inch wheels (GT RWD features Brembo four-piston calipers with Medium Gloss Black 20-inch by 9-inch wheels).

In the cockpit, orange stitching embellishes the instrument panel, door uppers and armrest, console lid, shifter boot and leather flat-bottom steering wheel. The seats also sport orange stitching, as well as a monochromatic Dodge Rhombi seatback logo. For Scat Pack Widebody, an orange-and-black “392” instrument panel badge decorates the inside. Blacked-out interior modifications include the steering wheel bezels, shifter body and cluster trim, cup holder and vent rings.

Ordering for the HEMI Orange package will be available starting in the fourth quarter of 2021. A HEMI Orange option will also be offered for the 2022 Dodge Durango R/T and R/T Tow N Go, with details and availability to come in the first quarter of 2022.

The SRT Black package, available for Charger and Challenger on the SRT Hellcat and SRT Hellcat Redeye models, offers the option of blacked-out exterior badging and accents. Charger and Challenger join Durango in offering the SRT Black package, which is available on the Durango SRT 392.

Exterior SRT Hellcat badging, including on the grille, fender and spoiler for Challenger and on the grille/fender/decklid for Charger, is modified with a Midnight Grey Metallic appearance. The package is completed with Black Nickel exhaust tips on the Charger SRT, while Black Nickel exhaust tips are standard on Challenger SRT models).

The SRT Black appearance package will also be available for ordering in the fourth quarter of 2021.
